

Why is Client UID registration required?

Fraud attacks continue to be on the rise. Client UID registration will reduce available attack points and provide protection similar to multi-factor authentication (MFA).

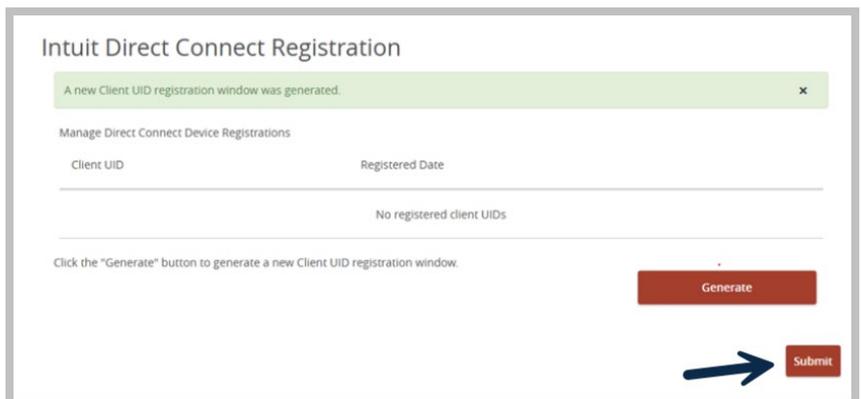

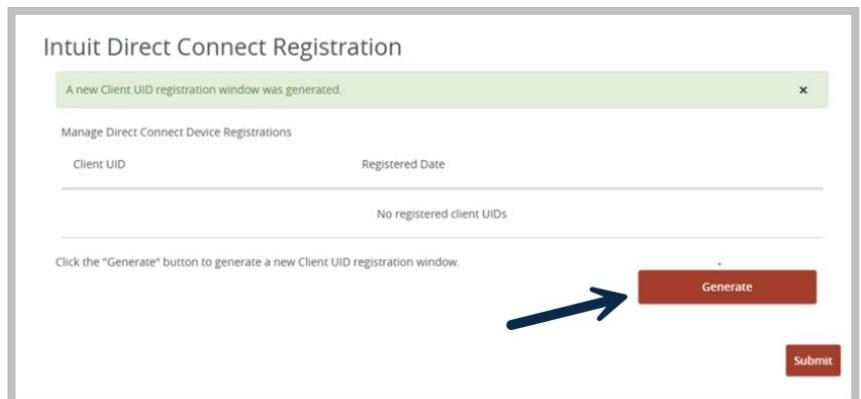

What is a Client UID?

A client user ID (Client UID) is the unique identifier assigned to your Quicken or QuickBooks application for authentication and API access.

How do I register my Client UID(s)?

- Log into digital banking
- Navigate to the registration form by selecting Settings > Direct Connect Registration
- Select Generate to start a new authorization window

- Re-initiate the connection process using Quicken or QuickBooks within the next 15 minutes to securely link the account.
- Log back into digital banking, navigate to Settings > Direct Connect Registration and select Submit to complete the Client UID for registration.

Note: If you miss the 15-minute registration window, repeat these steps to link your account.

Your Client UID will be listed in the form to confirm the registration process was successful.

Once the registration process has been completed successfully, you will not need to register the Client UID again.
